Nexus Corporation champions a flexible hybrid work paradigm engineered to empower focused individual productivity. Eligible employees whose core responsibilities permit remote execution may work remotely up to 3 days per week.

Designation	In-Office Cadence	Eligibility Criteria
Hybrid Staff (Standard)	Tuesdays & Thursdays Mandatory	Residing within 50 miles of regional hub
Designated Fully Remote	Quarterly Summits Only	Pre-approved remote agreement (>50 miles)

- Eligible employees may work remotely up to 3 days per week, subject to direct manager approval.
- Mandatory In-Office Days: Tuesday and Thursday are core in-person collaboration days for all hybrid personnel within 50 miles.
- Core synchronous collaboration hours are 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM local time across all remote sites.
- Remote colleagues must remain accessible via Slack and email during core collaboration hours.

REGULATORY MANDATE & REQUIREMENT:

Attendance on designated core days is tracked via badge swipes; unexcused absenteeism from in-office days may result in revocation of remote privileges.

Article 2. Home Office Ergonomic Stipend & Internet Allowance

A comfortable, ergonomically sound workspace is vital for long-term physical well-being and repetitive strain injury prevention. Nexus Corporation subsidizes your remote work setup through dedicated setup stipends and recurring internet allowances.

Allowance Type	Financial Benefit	Eligible Infrastructure
Home Office Setup Stipend	Up to $500 One-Time	Ergonomic chair, external 4K monitor, desk riser
Monthly Internet Subsidy	Up to $50 / Month	High-speed residential broadband / fiber
Corporate Laptop & Peripherals	Standard IT Hardware Bundle	MacBook Pro / ThinkPad + dock + headset

- Expense claims must be submitted with itemized vendor receipts within 45 days of transaction date.
- Hardware purchased with the stipend remains employee personal property upon departure.

REGULATORY MANDATE & REQUIREMENT:

Company-provided laptops, monitors, and security tokens remain corporate property and must be returned within 5 days of employment conclusion.

Article 3. International Remote Work & Temporary Relocation

Nexus Corporation offers employees the opportunity to combine travel and remote productivity through temporary international work.

To prevent permanent establishment corporate tax exposure, international remote work is strictly regulated.

Approval Tier	Maximum Allowance	Prerequisite Approvals
International Remote Work	Up to 20 Business Days / Year	Manager & HR Compliance Sign-off (30d notice)
Domestic Interstate Remote	Up to 30 Business Days / Year	Manager notification (14d notice)
Permanent State Relocation	Subject to Entity Setup	People Ops Compensation & Tax review

- Employees may work remotely abroad for up to 20 days annually upon manager and HR compliance sign-off.
- Employees must verify legal right to work in the destination jurisdiction without requiring corporate visa sponsorship.
- Destination country must not be listed on federal export control embargoes or State Department Level 4 Travel Advisories.

REGULATORY MANDATE & REQUIREMENT:

Working internationally without prior HR compliance sign-off is grounds for immediate termination due to severe tax and immigration compliance liability.

Article 4. Information Security, VPN & Data Protection while Remote

Working outside the secure corporate office perimeter expands the threat surface for cyber intrusions. Remote personnel must adhere to rigorous cybersecurity protocols to protect intellectual property and customer records.

Security Layer	Standard Mandate	Enforcement Mechanism
Virtual Private Network (VPN)	Always-on GlobalProtect VPN	Required for staging, internal APIs, and databases
Endpoint Protection	CrowdStrike Falcon EDR	Real-time behavioral telemetry monitoring
Display Privacy	Privacy filter in public venues	Screen lock after 5 minutes inactivity

- Remote employees must always connect to the corporate VPN when accessing internal networks, repos, or customer data.
- Connecting unencrypted personal USB thumb drives, external hard drives, or unauthorized peripheral storage is prohibited.
- Open, unencrypted public Wi-Fi networks (cafes, airport terminals) are forbidden unless secured via encrypted cellular hotspot.
- Workstation screens must be locked (Win + L or Control + Command + Q) whenever leaving the desk.

REGULATORY MANDATE & REQUIREMENT:

Loss or theft of any corporate laptop or mobile device must be reported to security-ops@nexus-corp.internal within 2 hours.

Article 5. Workspace Ergonomics, Health & Asynchronous Workflows

Nexus Corporation requires all remote employees to maintain a dedicated, distraction-free home working environment. Remote work succeeds through strong asynchronous communication habits rather than constant synchronous presence.

Practice Area	Recommended Standard	Key Benefit
Ergonomic Alignment	Eye level monitor, 90° elbow bend	Prevention of repetitive strain & spinal fatigue
Async Documentation	Notion / Confluence project briefs	Reduces meeting fatigue across time zones
Digital Disconnection	Mute Slack after 6:00 PM local	Prevents chronic burnout and promotes recovery

- Employees are encouraged to complete the virtual Ergonomic Self-Assessment module upon onboarding.
- Meeting etiquette: Cameras on for interactive 1-on-1s and retrospectives; default to async updates for status checks.
- Dependent care: While remote work offers flexibility, it is not a substitute for continuous dedicated childcare during core hours.

REGULATORY MANDATE & REQUIREMENT:

Work-from-home injuries occurring during designated work hours must be reported to Workers' Compensation within 24 hours of occurrence.

Article 6. Performance Expectations & Revocation of Remote Status

Remote work is a performance-contingent operational privilege, not an unconditional statutory entitlement. Continued remote eligibility requires sustained performance, transparent communication, and core day attendance.

Trigger Event	Corrective Action	Notice Period
Performance Deficiencies (PIP)	Temporary return to 5-day in-office	7 Calendar Days Written Notice
Chronic Core Attendance Breach	Mandatory in-person coaching	Immediate supervisory meeting
Role Reclassification	On-site essential transition	30 Calendar Days Transition Window

- Management reserves the operational authority to revoke or modify remote working agreements based on business demands.
- Employees placed on formal Performance Improvement Plans (PIPs) may be required to work on-site during remediation.
- Disputes regarding remote work decisions may be appealed to the People Operations Employee Relations Director.

REGULATORY MANDATE & REQUIREMENT:

All remote work arrangements are formally reviewed annually during the Q4 workforce planning cycle.
